ABSTRACT

[0030] A fibre-reinforced building article includes a matrix of a binding material, and at least one fibrous layer of alkaliresistant glass fibres incorporated in the matrix. The binding material is based on an aluminous cement, a carboxylic ether polymer based plasticizer and alkaliresistant glass fibres. The fibre-reinforced building article has fire protection properties.